

Casey Slocum

My name is Casey Slocum and I'm running to represent the United University Professions (UUP). I have been a full-time UUP professional at Binghamton University for five years this July. In this time, I've managed the Print Solutions office on campus, moving it from what once was the Copy Center to a competitive, ever-expanding print department within the Division of Communications and Marketing. I have also been a PSS senator and held seats on different committees under the PSS. I fell in love with this campus when I started work as the Marketing Manager for Dining Services here at Binghamton University in April of 2013, immediately previous to my current position. I enjoy making positive connections and helping to provide a useful and progressive influence to those on campus. I would sincerely appreciate your vote. Thank you.
